

American Revenue Association

Awards Program and Criteria

Any WSP show except the one where the American Revenue Association is holding its annual meeting:

If there are three revenue exhibits in the show a Best Revenue Exhibit award can be given. Both one-frame and multi-frame exhibits count toward the three, and an exhibit from either class can win the award.

At the show where the American Revenue Association is holding its annual meeting:

The best multi-frame revenue exhibit is to be awarded the ARA Grand. It does not matter if the exhibit has won this honor in the past at any time.

The best one-frame revenue exhibit is to be awarded the ARA Best Single Frame. It does not matter if the exhibit has won this honor in the past at any time.

At any this show, exhibits which are awarded a show vermeil or gold award are to be awarded ARA gold, and exhibits earning silver-bronze or silver show awards are to be awarded ARA silver. Exhibits awarded show bronze receive ARA bronze.
